Dear Prospective Officers:

Thank you for your interest in serving as a commissioned officer in the service of the United States.

Members of Congress are authorized by law to nominate candidates for appointment to four U.S. service academies. These schools are the U.S. Military Academy, the U.S. Naval Academy, the U.S. Air Force Academy and the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy. The fifth service academy, the U.S. Coast Guard Academy does not require a congressional nomination for appointment. These institutions prepare college-age Americans to be officers of the U.S. uniformed services. Upon graduation, service academy graduates are commissioned as officers in the active or reserve components of the military or merchant marine for a minimum of five years.

The nomination authorities, number of appointments and criteria establishing the qualifications of potential service academy appointments are set by statute, federal regulations and policies established by each academy. No laws or regulations govern congressional nomination processes, as long as nominations are submitted by deadlines established by the academies and comply with chamber ethics rules. Each congressional office with nominating authority may develop its own process for managing its service academy nominations.

I have adapted and modified a "whole person" approach similar to that used by USMA, USNA, and USAFA to make my nomination decisions. This approach evaluates several broad components of a potential nominee's qualifications for appointment, including character, scholarship, leadership, physical aptitude, medical fitness and motivation. In order to ensure an efficient and objection nominations process, I have commissioned a review panel of local service academy alumni, educators, representatives of veterans' groups and other community leaders to assist in screening and vetting applicants.

This packet contains information on this process and includes the following items:

1. Instructions for 19h Congressional District Service Academy Applicants
2. Guidelines for Military Academy Appointments
3. U.S. Service Academy Contact Information
4. Application for Nomination
5. Check List

Thank you for the privilege of representing you in Congress and good luck with the process!

Sincerely,

Member of Congress

Guidelines for Military Academy Appointments

The following guidelines are provided to Congressman Francis Rooney constituents who may be interested in an appointment to a U.S. Service Academy. You must be a constituent of the 19th Congressional District in order to apply for an appointment through Congressman Francis Rooney.

- A candidate must be of good moral character.
- A candidate must be an American citizen by the date of induction into an academy.
- The Air Force, Naval, Coast Guard, and Military Academies require a candidate to be at least 17 years of age, but not have passed their 22nd birthday by July 1 of the year of induction. A cadet must be unmarried with no dependents. The U.S. Merchant Marine Academy requires that the candidate be at least 17 years of age, but not have passed the 25th birthday by July 1 of the year of induction. A Merchant Marine cadet may be married, but couples may not be domiciled together either on or off campus.
- Obtaining an appointment to a military service academy is a two-fold process, the nomination process through nominating sources such as a Congressman plus the simultaneous application process through an academy. Submission of a nomination application does not trigger the academy application process; you must contact each academy individually. You can start the application process by either mailing or calling for an application. Many of the same requirements apply to ROTC programs. It is recommended that you apply to multiple service academies as well as for an ROTC scholarship.
- All academies require candidates to pass a Department of Defense Medical Examination Review Board. The academy to which the candidate has applied will initiate the scheduling of a no-cost examination and a physical fitness test at a Department of Defense facility. Once taken, the examination may be used for all service academies and for four-year ROTC scholarship programs.
- Graduation from a United States Service Academy carries a six (5) year obligation of active duty service. Voluntary, self-initiated withdrawal in the third or fourth year usually entails an assessment of tuition debt based on credits earned.
- We encourage you to apply to more than one academy, and to ask for nominations from more than one source. You will be first considered for a nomination on the basis of your primary choice of academy as indicated on your application form. Should you not receive a nomination to your primary academy choice, you will be considered for nomination on the basis of your secondary choice and/or tertiary choice, if there are nomination slots remaining to those alternative choices. This policy enables as many southwest Florida residents as possible to receive nominations.

U.S. Service Academy Contact Information

Please review the individual requirements for each Academy on their web site. Below is general information and is subject to change based on the needs of the service.

U.S. AIR FORCE ACADEMY

The Air Force Academy seeks individuals who possess exceptional academic prowess and leadership potential. The Admissions process includes a review of two major academic performance indicators: Prior Academic Record and College Admissions Test Scores (ACT or SAT). These two academic factors combine to create your Academic Composite Score. This score is the most important component of their selection composite, weighted at 50%. For the SAT, current high school students must submit scores from the NEW SAT only. Other Congressional nomination applicants may submit scores that have been taken within the past five years. The most recent scoring data for the SAT shows the middle 50% of admitted applicants ranging from 600-690 on Evidence-Based Reading and Writing (ERW) and 630-700 for Math. For the ACT, the middle 50% scoring range is as follows: 28-33 English, 28-33 Reading, 28-32 Math, and 27-33 Science Reasoning. Students who score below 580 ERW and 560 Math on the SAT Reasoning and below 24 English/reading and 25 math/science reasoning on the ACT normally will not be competitive for an appointment.

The highest SAT/ACT score will be used. The highest score may be taken from two different tests; therefore, to be competitive, the candidate is encouraged to retest one or more times. Students should rank in the upper 40 percent of their class; however, most cadets are ranked in the upper ten percent.

For applications contact: Director of Admissions, Colorado Springs, CO 80840-5651. Phone: (719) 472-2520

All tests should be taken within 16 months prior to the month of enrollment. On the NEW SAT Reasoning Test (taken AFTER March 2016), the middle 50% of the 2023 graduating class range is 30-34 Reading and 600-660 Math.* On the ACT, the middle 50% of accepted applicants had scores ranging from 25-31 English and 26-29 Math*. You must also achieve a minimum composite score of 23. Most midshipmen rank in the upper 40 percent of their high school class.
